Benua is a Berlin-based DJ and producer known for driving, groove-led techno. His sound moves between dark groove, hard groove, and stripped-back minimal, shaped by precise drum programming, tight rhythms, and a strong sense of flow.

Originally coming from the urban music world, Benua developed a deep understanding of rhythm and groove before turning toward techno. Influenced by the energy and openness of Berlin's underground scene, he began shaping a sound that connects raw club functionality with subtle urban influences.

His sets are focused and forward-driving, built through deliberate transitions and layered percussion that steadily build pressure on the dancefloor. The result is a hypnotic, rhythm-heavy approach designed for late-night club settings.

Benua has performed at venues including Aeden, Humboldthain Club, and Studio1111, continuing to build his presence within Berlin's underground club scene.
